This tool adds a lot of new features to the FAST, and i think that you can use this to integrate FAST with your own site and workflow search as well. PS: The free version limits the number of websites you can search in, and the number of results you can have per query. You may have to purchase a license in order to get more sites and results per query. Q: How to start chromedriver without Chrome in Ubuntu I would like to have a headless chromedriver for my selenium tests. In Ubuntu I use chromedriver 2.32 and chromedriver-chromedriver-2.32.jar. In Windows it works fine, I don't even have to start Chrome. In Ubuntu, when I start chromedriver with: / 1d6a3396d6

Elimination of obstructive bile duct disease in patients with obstructive jaundice is difficult. Therefore, there is a variety of new therapeutic methods, including extracorporeal procedures (ERCP), endoscopic sphincterotomy (EST), and endoscopic papillary balloon dilatation (EPBD). ERCP includes common bile duct exploration, papillotomy, transpapillary stent placement and/or (bi)directional endoscopic sphincterotomy. EST is performed with the aim of reducing the pressure in the bile duct. Endoscopic papillary balloon dilatation (EPBD) in particular is recommended when EPBD is technically possible and provides adequate therapy. Endoscopic papillary balloon dilatation (EPBD) has to be performed endoscopically. First of all, the papilla is dilated with a balloon dilator. The balloon is then withdrawn and is re-inserted with a snare forceps. After several attempts, the balloon is removed completely and the papilla is dilated.
