Alab Desolate Alab is an Australian dark instrumental rock band, formed in 2015 by singer-songwriter Isaac Bernstein. Their debut EP was released in January 2017, and was followed by the EP Occlusa, released in September 2017. The November 2017 release of their debut studio album, Present, was preceded by the EP Instrument, released in June 2017. Present and Occlusa peaked at number 2 on the Australian Albums Chart, while Instrument peaked at number 8. The band released their second studio album, Fucked with

Clairvoyance, in October 2018. History Career beginnings Isaac Bernstein, frontman and songwriter of Desolate Alab, formed the band in 2015. Bernstein went through a strict Buddhist routine, and believed the Christian life was of little benefit to those seeking to listen to the peace and freedom of meditation. According to the songwriter, the unending suffering of the lives of humans on Earth was evident and pitiable. Two songs, "Never Alone" and "Standing Alone", were written while the band members were meditating. Writing on his website, Bernstein wrote that he wrote the song "Standing Alone" after hearing a person talk for three hours about the evils of social media and the tyranny of the ruling class. Behetroto Presents In 2015, Bernstein began concert promotion with a music label named Behetroto Presents. With their first show at the St Jerome's Laneway Festival in December 2015, they performed alongside Bane, Swet Shop Boys, Nothing But Thieves, Public Enemy, Body Count, Mantra, and Violent Soho. In mid-2016, the debut "Never Alone" was released as a single. Short Stories During 2015, the band performed at a number of festivals in Perth, Western Australia, such as Groovin' the Moo, Earth Day Africa Festival, and Big Top. The band's single from the festival, "Never Alone", remained on the ARIA Singles Chart for 17 weeks. In August 2016, the band performed at the Good Vibrations Festival in Adelaide, and released the EP The Tenderness and The Other's Third - with the lead single from it, entitled The Tenderness, also receiving a music video. In a 2016 interview with Noise11, Bernstein said "We had a friend (Adam) put us together and we've been making music together for 4 years...We do all the heavy DIY (and do the whole thing ourselves
