* Photoshop Elements is a complete solution for novice users. This version has all of the basics, and some features that are not available on other versions of the program, such as the ability to create videos and multiple layers. * Adobe Photoshop Lightroom is not just for photographers, though that is the beginning of its intended audience. It also can do effects on images and videos, plus some post-processing work such as adding special effects and color correction. * Photoshop and Adobe Creative Suite are the same product. Photoshop CS6 and later are published by Adobe under Creative Suite. * * **On Behalf of Real Artists** The film director Woody Allen once said, "I never got the point of trying to explain to people how a photograph could be better than a painting. It just wasn't possible. It would only be possible if you could add a ninth sense to see what people couldn't see." Like films, many other types of photography have editing tools that give the photographer more creative control over the final image. On the other hand, some photographers feel that photography is a different art form, and other creative choices should be left to the artist. Here are some other opinions on the art of photography versus the craft of photography: * "The photograph is a tree with a hole in it." * "Why are there so many photographers? What they are really saying is they have no soul." * "There's nothing wrong with using a digital camera. It's the photographer who causes trouble." * "Photography is not a craft. It's a thousand million tricks that nobody uses." * "I believe that photography is not a battle of form and technique, but a struggle between understanding and evil." * "I am the first person to say that the only value in photography is money." * "The only thing that counts in a photograph is the picture."

students, staff and parents to be aware of phishing emails, and to be on their guard against ransomware. Hafod School in Llanrumney, Cardiff, was hit by a worldwide cyber attack earlier this month, after which school computers were locked to prevent them being used. At the time that it happened, the school, which has around 1200 students, was undergoing a budget review. The attack was the latest in a series of cyber attacks, which hit schools across the world and targeted important systems such as the internet connected login and other applications. A letter was sent out to parents, and teachers, warning about the dangers and warning students to be vigilant about the possibility of emails containing malicious links being sent to them. "We feel it is important to pass on information concerning the recent rise in cyber attacks. The number of incidents reported to the National Cyber Security Centre (NCSC) has risen significantly over the past three years. The growth in attacks over this period is particularly concerning," the letter to parents said. "We are currently reviewing our email systems and IT infrastructure, so that we can ensure that the security of our students and the confidentiality of their information is maintained. The safest way to ensure that you can access your email is to check that it is signed in correctly using your school username and password," the letter said.
