I find myself a little confused by the whole gun control debate. I think that to a certain extent, we need to keep society stable. In America, we have a lot of people that have guns, and that can be a real danger for the average citizen. So are we going to start banning all guns and restrict the ownership of guns? I don't know, but it does seem like a pretty slippery slope. My other question is, should people only be able to own guns if they are members of law enforcement? Do we need to make it more expensive to own guns? I'm not even sure if that will work, but the politicians want to take it a step further and expand background checks. I'm all for background checks, but will that work? d. auger, I would like to have my opinion considered and commented on. I find myself on a different side of the issue, but I want to see where the debate goes. I am definitely 6d1f23a050
